Adventures with Little Eloise

A picture book series for young readers.

September 2024 Newsletter

By Vicki S. Davey, MA, M.Ed.

Greetings and Salutations!

I can't believe it's already September! Time has been flying by as we continue to work on our goal to get our books into the hands of children around the world – in their own language -- starting with Rivers of Mercy (ROM) Children's Home in Juarez, Mexico.

So far in 2024, we have sent one book for every child, every two months (40 copies). In February we sent Book 1 (Making Friends); in April Book 2 (Little Jack Bones); in June Book 3 (Into the Woods); and in August Book 4 (The Story of Sidney Mouse).

Friends who donated to get Book 3 and Book 4 to the kiddos were Kim Cureton, Nancy Gagen, George Jean Babets, Kathy Genzoli, Nancy Reber, and Dr. Matt Sullivan of Premiere Eye Center. Thank you all so much. The children love our books!

Our books demonstrate how friendship can occur between anyone – no matter how different they may be – horses, donkeys, chickens, llamas, pigs, cats, dogs, mice, and perhaps even an angry owl.

Please visit our website to see photos of the kiddos proudly showing their books, and to read what the director of the orphanage says about the kids and their books on our testimonials page. www.vickidavey.com

If you'd like to join us in getting the rest of the series out, October will be Book 5 (When Bullies Come Knocking, which teaches about dealing with bullies with conflict resolution); and, in December Book 6 (Bob the Burro and the Legend of the Cross) will be sent.

Here's our NEW IDEA – We're making our books available to churches, camps, schools, or other organizations that provide services to children – at cost. This is so that they may sell books at regular price to raise money for their own special projects or activities. We don't get paid for this, but we do earn royalties that go into a special savings account that we will eventually gift to the orphanage. Please let us know if you're interested so we can get you started!

Thank you for your ongoing support.
